Safeguarding Children

Getting it right across the NHS

21st October 2009, Friend's House, London

www.safeguardingchildren2009.co.uk

Introduction

Safeguarding Children 2009 is designed to serve two vital goals; drawing together insight, information & understanding around the core issues facing health professionals in this area, whilst providing a forum for debate, collaboration and networking by the very professionals implementing child protection services at the coalface.

Cutting Edge Insight into the Key Issues of Today

Medicology Conferences are designed to enable the widest possible audience to gain insight into and solutions to the core issues facing healthcare professionals today, by providing a cost-effective and accessible platform for information migration, experience sharing, collaboration and knowledge management.

Conference topics are identified utilising the following criteria:

- There is a pressing need to resolve challenges in that area
- A wider audience needs access to important insight
- The topic area warrants wider discussion
- The issue in question has significant impact on healthcare success

We are particularly committed to bringing knowledge, insight, strategies & skills to frontline healthcare professionals, who often face the challenge of implementing major initiatives or resolving key challenges at the operational coalface. Doctors, Nurses, Allied and Business Professionals at all levels of the organisation need access to the insight brought to Medicology Conferences.

Widely Accessible to the Right People

Clinical and other frontline staff often find it difficult to access the insight necessary to succeed and thrive in the modern environment because many healthcare conferences are organised, publicised and priced in a manner that precludes them from attending when in fact it is they who really need access to the insight. Medicology conferences are designed to address this very issue by:

- Carefully managing costs to ensure the lowest possible cost of attendance
- Utilising lower cost but high quality venues to ensure the right capacity at the right price
- Ensuring the widest possible publicity to the right people

For any further information about group bookings please contact dean@medicology.co.uk who will be happy will help.

We recognise that cost of attendance is key to maximising access in those who need to attend. However, delegates also need to have the right experience too. We achieve this by providing the right facilities and conditions but in a cost effective manner:

- Delegate packs consisting of a bag, pen, paper and programme
- Tea/coffee on arrival, mid morning and in the afternoon
- Simple but nutritious delegate lunch, with appropriate refreshments
- Certificates, with CPD approval where appropriate

All Medicology conferences are comprehensively evaluated to ensure standards are maintained.

Book over the phone by calling 01332 821260, or on the web at www.safeguardingchildren2009.co.uk
